

Author name: Anonymous

Date of submission: Tuesday, 26 January 2016

Submission: My submission is re the $9 opal fare for self funded retirees.

it has been said in the press articles that these people are very wealthy, millionaires, billionaires etc.

This is not always the case. I recently sold my house in Thornleigh & after buying into a retirement village there is still too much in my savings account to get the part pension which I had been getting.

I think it is quite unfair to charge $9 a day to go out. If as I often do I would go out 3 or 4 days a week, then that would be almost $40 a week which would not be sustainable in the long term.

Would it not be possible to have some sort of a sliding scale in which people like me would not have to pay as much as the billionaires for our transport? Maybe $5?

There are many people like me who do not have an accountant who can do clever things with our money...

Yours sincerely

██████████