Submission: Hello I read your report for proposed opal changes. I greatly disagree with your proposed changes for many reasons. You are increasing by a huge margin, by scrapping the free rides and replacing it so that people pay for the 10 longest journeys they have, people will end up paying $30 or more per week. You are also increasing the Sunday Fun Day Cap. The current $2.50 cap is what gets so many people outside, by increasing the cap you will deter many people from going out. Also by eradicating so many of the paper alternatives like the Travel Ten and My Multi and then inflating opal prices is just outrageous. Next city-rail is a terrible mediocre public transport service, a bit of rain pretty much guarantees delays, and morning peak hour is atrocious to travel in. Unless you could guarantee that with these increases would result to no train being over 5 minutes late, and giving compensation if that occurs, I and many others object to your proposed opal increase.
