

Author name: Anonymous

Date of submission: Wednesday, 3 February 2016

Submission: Public transport usage should be encouraged. Rewarding frequent users is one way of doing this. Increasing prices, rewards and axing things like the Sunday Cap will discourage public transport usage.

The current systems has only been in place for a short time, changing it now ( after all commuters have been forced on the the opal system) i plain and simply unfair. It is just a rort of the good commuters of Sydney.

Leave the pricing structure as it is ! Including free trips after the first 8, and Sunday cap!