Submission: The proposed changes to the Opal Card, particularly to the seniors $2.50 fare is unjust and unfair. Seniors in the main have worked all their lives contributing to the tax base and the $2.50 fare is seen as a reward, particularly, when after retirement income is usually limited to the commonwealth pension or superannuation stream. It is hard to comprehend how the increase could be raised by some magic wand to over $9 for non commonwealth pensioners, this seems to be way over the top and totally out of any reasonable bounds of common sense or justice
Please consider the seniors tenuous financial position when decisions of this nature are made
