

Author name: Anonymous

Date of submission: Friday, 5 February 2016

Submission: I believe that it is unacceptable to constantly punish those people who have always tried to do the correct thing for the community. At the least it should be grandfathered so that people who have planned carefully and are now no longer in the workforce do not have to have yet another financial bodyblow to contend with. Having discussed the issue with many contemporaries the sentiment seems to be unanimous.

Thank you