

Author name: Anonymous

Date of submission: Friday, 5 February 2016

Submission: Dear Tribunal Officer

If you want more congestion on the roads take away the capped $2.50 each opal card for couples over 60 working less than 20 hours.

If my husband and I are going to spend $18 on transport if we are going somewhere together we may as well take our car making the already congested roads even more congested!

We also are less likely to do volunteer work if we have a large transport cost.

I believe you will bring in the new system but with a lower initial cost base of maybe $4 instead of $9 and then quickly raise the price. You are using the $9 as an anchoring price and then you will use a much lower price initially so people are relieved. This is a deceitful tactic.