Submission: This is not fair, self funded retirees are already saving the Government untold amounts of money, we get no help with drivers licenses, rego, no pension, we are usually the ones who do the most volunteering because in the main I have to say that people who are self funded are more able to help others, To be self funded (usually) you have to have self discipline and a certain level of intelligence.

Now you want to kick us down again, we are all hurting because of the low interest rate, our money is going down fast. But you wont be happy till you have us all on the pension and wont that be great for the economy.
