Submission: the new proposed changes are not thought through. They are going to encourage more people onto the roads as there is no incentive to catch public transport. There is currently terrible congestion on the roads and these changes are only going to make it worst.

The paper weekly tickets had 1 day of free travel as the weekly was equal to 4 return trips, when the opal was implement you encouraged people to move to opal with cheaper fares, as it was the same but cheaper than the paper tickets, but then once you couldn't buy paper weekly tickets any longer you now proposed increasing fares significantly.

Not only are planning on changing it to 10 trips but the 10 longest trips as well. This is going to increase fares significantly and therefor means that it wont make public transport as feasible, which is going to only push people onto the roads. Isn't the government meant to subsidise part of the transport network, it is a vital part of making this country run.

I hope these changes will be thought through as I feel it will make this State take a step backwards if it all goes through.

Thanks Blake
