Submission: Hi

I understand what you propose in changing the fares for senior war and disability card holders.

Please bear in mind the average person on these benefits are of a low income and taking away the need to use travel concessions. In saying the approximate amount that changes it is unrealistic these people barely make ends met. Its freedom hospitals the mental health system all this plus so much more that rely on the concession amount. I believe $3 is ok the $3.5 to be fair. The people working that put the money in ur hands is where u can only ever price change accordingly. Low income families rely on a service and the government show these people thst price chsnge go with thr welfare systems affordability. Ypu are not a private company. Please please consider the mums and dads and grand parents and people need. We need to value their needs. No i do not agree and hope in your governed policies travel is what keeps an australian spirit. Look else where. These people matter.. Thankyou fpr tsking the time tp allow my say

Kind regards
