

Author name: D. Liang

Date of submission: Friday, 22 January 2016

Submission: It push people back to congestive road by driving. It reduces wishes people going out especially to city or commercial centres which harmful enough to struggling retailers. It robs money from low to mid inomers. After all these, it's doubtful to get any increased return. The state government needs to play a important role who partly covers the running costs for greater benefits acquired from booming up consuming brought by outgoing commuters. As major decision maker , really needed an eye to look bigger picture. People having tunnels vision are not right for whatever the position they are sitting.