Submission: I do think that an increase in fares for seniors will have 2 negative outcomes:

1. seniors above the threshold but on a low budget will reduce the amount of traveling (traveling to visit people, places etc keeps them active and is of major importance)
2. other seniors will do the numbers and find that taking the car for certain trips all of a sudden is cheaper - so there will be an increase of traffic

I guess neither of it is in any way a positive outcome, so please, increase the fares for seniors by a only moderate amount and leave the rest as it is
