

Author name: I. Chan

Date of submission: Friday, 5 February 2016

Submission: The proposed changes to the weekly caps, namely the abolishing of the 8-trip limit and increasing the weekly cap to $65, will adversely affect frequent travellers. Without lack of financial incentive to use public transport, this will lead to an increase of cars on the road and thus more traffic congestion. In an environment where we should encourage people to use more public transport, such a proposal is counter-intuitive and undesirable to the well-being of the city.