Submission: I tried lodging a submission last week but it did not seem to get through.

I am probably wasting my time as the decision makers probably rarely if ever use public transport.

a mandarin mr.Boxall has made his report which recommends increasing the daily cost maximum for seniors gold cards on the grounds that since the rate was last increased the C.of L. index has gone up 30%.

most seniors not in receipt of government assistance are very lucky if they have had any increase since the GFC and are probably getting less than before as interest rates on investments have gone to record low levels.

most politicians could not care less but they could be making a mistake as most of my peers although lacking the energy to make a submission but ALL vote
