Submission: This new proposal is discriminatory.

This proposal could cause hardship to NSW citizens by forcing them to reconsider their travel, because of economics.

This proposal, by forcing pensions and self funded retirees to pay more money for public transport, could have severe social problems due to isolation.

It could force some people to chose between buying their medication or becoming socially isolated.

This will put more money on the public hospitals because admissions would rise.

The hospital services such as counselling will be overwhelmed.

This proposal to increase the cost of travel for older people will have repercussions for the bottom line of the NSW Government.

NO ONE is a winner with this proposal. This is a nasty suggestion.

There are far better options overseas, for an example, which could be considered.
