Submission: 1. The Sunday $2.50 opal cap is a great program which has resulted in families using public transport on Sunday. This is popular to such an extent that the trains and ferries in my area (Parramatta) are full or nearly full on Sundays. Similar program should be rolled out for Saturday as well with slightly higher cap like $5 perhaps.

2. Instead of getting free rides after first 8 fares in the week, it should be top 8 fares in the week. Plenty of people misuse the provision of 1st 8 paid fares by taking un-necessary short trips. However, the number of paid trips in a week should be retained. Increasing it to 10 will result in removal of any incentive, whatsoever, to the office going population who are the biggest users of Sydney trains.
