

Author name: S. Lovell

Date of submission: Friday, 25 October 2013

Submission: I note that this review does not address the issue of transfers between modes, nor did the previous Cityrail review. Even though IPART have acknowledged in the past that it is unfair for someone who interchanges between modes to be forced to pay two flagfalls, it doesn't seem that there will ever be a decision to address this under Opal. I think this calls into question the entire process.