

Sent: Tuesday, 4 November 2008 5:05 PM

Subject: Review of CityRail fares

Good afternoon,

I understand there must be a balance between income coming in and expenditure to make our transport system sustainable and to improve it. However, our system is quite substandard and third world at this point in time and substantial increases in fares can't be justified when trains are so crowded and some stations are so dirty.

There are other things that should be reviewed and fixed before the fares.