People are being sacked in the thousands, pensioners are on the bread line with our cold hearted politicians admitting even they could not live on the aged pension,

I would suggest in this economic climate restraint should be uppermost in the deliberations of mindless bureaucrats, this one I suppose gets trotted out because he has no mind, heart, conscience, or any sense responsibility to his fellow citizens, only to big business that pollutes, is given and will be given greater subsidies to pollute in the meantime raking in massive profits.

I sometime ponder when listening to bureaucrats and politicians if they live without actually being alive.

In total disgust
