

Digant Savalia
24/03/2006

Unfair Fare Increase.

Hi,

I completely oppose the fair increase being considered by cityrail. Following are the reasons that lead me to support my views:

1) Cityrail services have been degraded year after year in last few years as I have noticed. Since last time table introduction, in which Cityrail proposed frequency cuts I hoped that the service would improve as Cityrail had less number of trains to focus on. However, Cityrail proved it other way round. Frequent peak hour trains (I travel Penrith to North Sydney line), lack of communication skills of guard, frequent train delays - how the heck on this world Cityrail can even think of increasing the fare?

2) Whoever thinks that Cityrail should run on 135% capacity should come forward and travel between 4 to 6 PM from city to any station. Then only they will realised that how close they are to the hell when on the trains without aircon and fully stuffed trains.

3) Rather cowardly conducting irrelevant surveys, Cityrail should place inquiry forms at major station. Then only they will realise what we commuters think of about the service.

DONT INCREASE THE RAIL FARE AT ANY COST. We are already paying too much for too little.

Digant