CityRail Fare Increase

you have GOT to be JOKING!!! I live at Wiley Park and am currently working in Rosebery... it usually takes me an hour to get to and from work each day.

Perhaps my train runs on time in the morning and runs on or close to time in the afternoon, but you might like to think about the fact that you have REDUCED the number of trains that run during peak times and also that you have INCREASED the travel time of every single train. there are a few express services during the morning peak but the travel time difference is negligible... i'm not sure what the reasoning is...

there are other things that would improve the service that you apparently provide... one of these is the cleanliness of the trains, and the fact that the afternoon trains are not airconditioned, definately when we need it most.

you might like to read the letters page of mX, provided free each weekday afternoon... you would certainly find one in any of the carriages after 5pm.
