

Sean Wilson
28/03/2006

Objection to the increase in rail fares

I am writing to express my objection to the increase in rail fares. The NSW rail system is already overpriced. The fares have gone up again and again and the system only gets worse. I am not interested in paying more money. You need to fix the problems at their sources instead of continually taxing commuters.

Sean Wilson